

Under the Evening Star

January Sutherland left the Evening Star Ranch a young woman running from a dangerous secret. She returns with an MBA in Agriculture, ready to help run the family business. The ghosts of her past and the man who broke her heart are right where she left them. She has two choices, move forward, or fight for the one who got away.

Flint Marston is a man haunted. The evil that stalked him nearly shattered January's life. Pushing her away saved her life, but did nothing to end his love. The complications that arise with her return leave him shaken. This time, will he be able to keep her safe?
