

A Little Night Rainbow (Rainbow Rock Romances Book 4)

Max Carmody was married once. It wasn't pretty. Now he finds himself stuck for the summer with a thirteen-year-old daughter he barely knows and a sister who will take her in, but not unless he comes with her. Marcie tells her dad she wants him to marry again, but the last thing this Mozart-loving car parts manufacturer needs is romance. Why, the odds of his ever marrying again are about as likely as finding a rainbow in the night sky. Cretia Sherwood was married too and it definitely wasn't pretty. She is finally healing and regaining some independence. The last thing this Mozart-loving mom of two needs is to submerge herself in another man. She assures her daughter she might marry again when she sees a night rainbow. When love brings them a rainbow, both Max and Cretia have to choose between the security they know and the risks of loving again.
