

Mozi (Translations from the Asian Classics)

Mozi (fifth century B.C.) was an important political and social thinker and formidable rival of the Confucianists. He advocated universal love?his most important doctrine according to which all humankind should be loved and treated as ones kinfolk?honoring and making use of worthy men in government, and identifying with ones superior as a means of establishing uniform moral standards. He also believed in the will of Heaven and in ghosts. He firmly opposed offensive warfare, extravagance?including indulgence in music and allied pleasures?elaborate funerals and mourning, fatalistic beliefs, and Confucianism.
